Date: 22/05/2024

Venue: College Conference Hall

(An Initiative of the Assamese Department with the IQAC)

The Assamese Department of Tyagbir Hem Baruah College organized an academic discussion on 22/05/2024 regarding The Teaching Methods of Assamese and the Various Aspects of the Language. The discussion aimed to examine the pedagogy surrounding Assamese language teaching, while also exploring its various dialects, cultural dimensions, and academic significance. The event was conducted as part of the department's ongoing initiatives to promote greater understanding and appreciation of the Assamese language among students.

The session included paper presentations from students enrolled in the Integrated Teacher Education Programme (ITEP) and enlightening discussions led by the faculty members of the Assamese Department. The academic discussion was marked by active participation from both students and faculty, culminating in a thoughtful dialogue on how the language can be taught more effectively and the areas where it requires further exploration. The programme began with student paper presentations, where the ITEP students shared their research on various aspects of the Assamese language highlighting how language preservation plays a pivotal role in maintaining the rich cultural heritage of Assam, stressing the importance of promoting the Assamese language in both formal and informal settings. The discussion traced the historical development of teaching strategies employed for the Assamese language, from traditional oral methods to more modern, communicative approaches.

After the student presentations, the faculty members of the Assamese Department, including Dr. Mukut Kumar Sonowal, Dr. Chabirani Das, and Dr. Rantu Dutta, led a discussion on the dialectical diversity within Assamese and its implications for language teaching. The professors shared their expertise on the linguistic variations present in different regions of Assam and their impact on language pedagogy. Dr. Mukut Kumar Sonowal highlighted the significance of understanding the phonetic and syntactic variations across Assamese dialects. He explained that the presence of multiple dialects presents both a challenge and an opportunity for educators. He emphasized that teaching should be adaptable, sensitive to dialectal variations, and inclusive of regional linguistic diversity. Dr. Chabirani Das further expanded on the socio-linguistic aspects of Assamese, explaining how language usage is often influenced by social contexts, education levels, and even geographic factors. She encouraged students to conduct research on language usage in different communities and understand its evolving nature. Dr. Rantu Dutta contributed to the discussion by encouraging students to explore the interdisciplinary nature of Assamese studies, particularly how it intersects with cultural studies, literature, and history. She stressed that a well-rounded understanding of Assamese should go beyond linguistics and encompass social, political, and cultural perspectives.

Throughout the session, the faculty members urged the students to continue their academic exploration of the Assamese language. They encouraged them to conduct research in areas like dialectology, language preservation, and innovative teaching methods. The professors also underscored the importance of embracing

Workshop on Solid Waste Management

Resource person: Dr. Chinta Mani Sharma, Principal Biswanath College

Mr. Bipul Saikia, Assistant Professor, Chemistry

Date: 16/05/2024

Venue: Conference Hall

A day long workshop on Solid Waste Management was held today at Tyagbir Hem Baruah College under the initiatives of the Eco Club and Botany department of the college with participation of more than one hundred students from the Higher Secondary and High Schools of the greater Naduar area. The programme was presided over by Dr. Bipul Kumar Borah, President of the Governing Body of the college. Delivering the welcome address Dr. Ajit Hazarika, Principal of the college told that generation of waste materials and lack of proper knowledge of the ways of managing it have caused great damage to our environment. We must adopt the ways of generating less quantity of solid waste so that the green environment of the earth may be preserved for the future generations.

Dr. Chinta Mani Sharma, Principal Biswanath College acting as the resource person spoke extensively on the topic and told how we are polluting our surroundings and creating threat to the eco system by producing tonnes of non degradable wastes every day. He told that solid waste is a global problem and with our ignorance of the ill consequences of ineffective disposal of garbage, and idiotic and irrational behaviour we are turning our beautiful places to hell. He called upon the students to be sensible to the environment and follow a more eco friendly lifestyle.

Another resource person, Mr. Bipul Saikia, Assistant Professor, Chemistry conducting the hands-on training for the students told that the problems arising out of generation of non-biodegradable solid waste are unavoidable and there is no way out to escape more alarming situations in days to come as man will keep generating wastes till the end of life on this planet. He told that nature has bountifully gifted us everything for our use, but most ungratefully and with short sighted behavior we are destroying all her resources. Poor waste management - ranging from non-existing collection systems to ineffective disposal - causes air pollution, water and soil contamination. We must behave wisely to stop further contamination of the planet with wise decisions and well planned solid waste management systems. Previously Dr. Tulsi Upadhyaya, throwing light on the objectives of the programme told that Mission Life in Assam has been launched to sensitize the people about different environmental problems and their responsibilities in this regard. The present workshop is organized with the Assam Science Technology and Environment Council and sponsorship from the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, government of India. He expected that the participating students will learn from today's discussion a lot about the magnitude of the problem caused by generation of millions of tonnes of garbage across the world and their role in this context. The programme was conducted by Ms. Rupa Kalita, Assistant Professor, department of Botany.

Date: 11th December, 2023

Venue: Conference Hall

Tyagbir Hem Baruah College celebrated Human Rights Day on 11th December 2023 with enthusiasm and a deep sense of purpose. The event was marked by insightful discussions and an overall commitment to promoting and protecting human rights. The celebration was organized by the college, with a special focus on educating students and faculty about the importance of human rights and their roles in advocating for these fundamental principles.

The program commenced with an introduction and a welcome address by Dr. Nava Jyoti Hazarika, Assistant Coordinator, IQAC. Dr. Hazarika outlined the significance of Human Rights Day and set the tone for the day's proceedings.

The highlight of the event was the keynote address delivered by Dr. Jayanta Baruah, Head of the Department, Political Science. Dr. Baruah's address was both inspiring and thought-provoking. He emphasized the significance of Human Rights Day as a global observance dedicated to the promotion and protection of human rights and freedoms. Dr. Baruah elaborated on the universal principles of human rights and their relevance in today's world. He highlighted the progress made over the years but also acknowledged the ongoing challenges that need to be addressed. His discussion encompassed various aspects of human rights, including social justice, equality, and the role of education in fostering a culture of respect and dignity.

One of the key points Dr. Baruah stressed was the crucial role of students in shaping the future of human rights. He encouraged the students to become active participants in the advocacy for human rights, emphasizing that their actions and awareness could significantly impact societal change. Dr. Baruah also highlighted the importance of education in understanding and upholding human rights values. Later he answered the questions asked by the students and clarified their doubts.

Another speaker Dr. Dip Jyoti Hazarika, in his poignant speech on the violation of human rights, eloquently underscored the urgent need for heightened societal awareness and collective action. He highlighted the pervasive nature of human rights abuses, which often remain obscured by ignorance or indifference. Dr. Hazarika emphasized that addressing these violations requires more than just legal reforms; it necessitates a concerted effort to educate and mobilize communities. By fostering a deeper understanding of human rights and promoting active engagement, he believes that society can create a more just and equitable world. His call to action resonates with the need for empathy, vigilance, and persistent advocacy to combat the injustices that undermine our shared humanity.

Following the deliberations of the resource persons, Dr. Nava Jyoti Hazarika offered the vote of thanks. Dr. Hazarika expressed gratitude to Dr. Jayanta Baruah for his enlightening presentation and to all the students and faculty members for their enthusiastic participation. With it the programme came to a close.
